To comply with the Model Standards, Taumata Arowai will conduct a check regarding serious misconduct with all preferred candidates.

Subject to your consent, this check will be conducted in two ways.

1. Reference checks – during the reference process for all preferred candidates, referees will be asked to confirm whether a candidate has been subject to a serious misconduct investigation, either concluded and upheld or currently under investigation, within the last three years.
2. Serious misconduct check – for preferred candidates who have been employed within Public Service departments and/or statutory Crown entities within last three years, Taumata Arowai will contact the agencies directly for information about whether a candidate has been subject to a serious misconduct investigation, either concluded and upheld or currently under investigation, within the last three years.

If a reference check or serious misconduct check discloses that you have been subject to a serious misconduct investigation, Taumata Arowai will ask you to consent to the disclosure of additional details by the previous employer.

Disclosure of convictions

Before completing the next section please read the guidance notes carefully and seek further information if required. Your answer to this question may depend on whether you are eligible under the Clean Slate scheme set out in the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004.

Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004

The “clean slate” scheme is designed to allow individuals with less serious convictions who have been conviction free for at least seven years and who meet all other relevant criteria to put their past behind them. It enables eligible individuals to conceal convictions in most circumstances. The scheme came into force on 29 November 2004.

Individuals are able to request a copy of their criminal record from the Privacy Assistant of the Ministry of Justice to determine if they meet the criteria. If an individual is eligible under the scheme his/her convictions will be concealed. If the individual's convictions continue to be on their criminal record, they do not meet the eligibility criteria.

Applicants can obtain a copy of the Ministry of Justice pamphlet about the scheme from a wide range of places including courts, police stations, community law centres and Citizens' Advice Bureaux.

- For further information refer to the Ministry of Justice website at: www.justice.govt.nz/services/criminal-records
- The Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004 can be downloaded for free from: www.legislation.govt.nz

Have you ever been convicted of a criminal offence (not covered by the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004), or do you have any criminal charges pending in a civil or criminal court of law? Yes No
